

Wedding Ceremonies

AT THIRD PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

for Non-Church Members

Third Presbyterian Church

Seeking the Light

Welcome

Third Presbyterian Church is pleased to share the joyful occasion of your wedding, which in the Presbyterian tradition calls upon the community to witness as a couple makes covenantal promises to one another before God. As Presbyterian church leaders, we have certain guidelines and requirements that you will find in this booklet.

As the ceremony itself is a special worship service and a sacred occasion, weddings are ordinarily celebrated in the space where the community gathers for worship. (You are welcome to contact one of our ministers if you'd like them to officiate at a wedding at another location.) Reverence is expected of all present, and each element of the service—including music, flowers, and other adornments—should be appropriate to the worship space, should direct worship toward God, and should reflect the integrity and simplicity of Christian life.

The service is conducted under the sole direction of the officiating minister, who will guide you in planning the ceremony. The information in this booklet will also be helpful as you make plans for this special day.

Wishing you every happiness,

SETTING THE DATE

This is an active congregation with many programs that make use of our building. Our Office Administrator, Cindy Mark, maintains the official church calendar to properly coordinate events and building use.

We can confirm the availability of a particular date, but we must receive a completed copy of your CEREMONY INFORMATION FORM before making final confirmation of that date.

We do not schedule ceremonies on Sundays, on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day, during the week before Easter, or on Park Avenue Festival Weekend (the first weekend in August). The church is typically closed on national holidays, so these dates may not be available. Please consult with Lynette Sparks.

For non-church members, we will reserve the ceremony date 180 days (six months) prior to the service date, and no earlier. For members, we will reserve the ceremony date upon receipt of the Ceremony Information Form. ☒

THE OFFICIATING MINISTER

It is our policy that one of the Third Church pastors will preside at all weddings ceremonies. If the couple would like other clergy to participate in the service alongside the Third Church minister, the officiating minister is the person who issues that invitation.

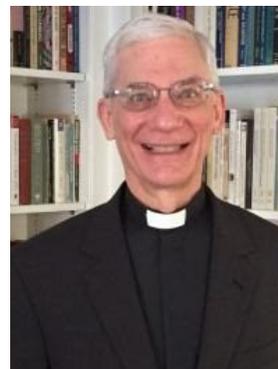

The officiating minister, in accordance with the guidelines of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), is expected to meet with the couple for counseling and consultation prior to the ceremony. The couple is responsible for scheduling these counseling sessions and should make these arrangements quickly after receiving confirmation of the officiating minister. ☒

PLANNING THE MUSIC

The Third Church sanctuary and chapel are both equipped with organ and piano. It is the policy of Third Church that one of its musicians play for all weddings ceremonies that use the organ.

Because music plays such an important part in the service, we ask couples to schedule a consultation with the organist who will play for the ceremony. We recommend that this consultation come early in the process –soon after the couple receives their letter of confirmation for the service date.

At the consultation, you will choose music for the processional and the recessional, and make arrangements for any other congregational, vocal or instrumental music that will be played during the service. ✠

A WORD ABOUT MUSIC

from Peter DuBois, Director of Music & Organist

HYMNS

Hymns can be a wonderful part of your ceremony, and involve the congregation in the ceremony in a unique way. There are a number of hymns that are especially appropriate for use at weddings, which you might discuss during the music consultation or with the officiating pastor.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

It is also possible to include instrumentalists in the service music. For example, trumpets might be used during the processional or recessional. Other instruments such as flute, oboe, or strings might play before the service or during the ceremony.

VOCAL MUSIC

Vocal solos can add a meaningful element to the ceremony, and Third Church has a number of talented soloists available. It is important to remember that the service music— especially vocal solos—should be sacred in nature and in keeping with a service of worship. Popular songs, show tunes, and love songs are not appropriate for the service.

WE HOPE THAT THESE GUIDELINES will help you in planning music for your ceremony. Certainly, many details can be worked out during the consultation. If you have questions, please contact me at 585.271.6537 ext 109 or by email: pdubois@thirdpresbyterian.org. ☒

PHOTOGRAPHY & VIDEOGRAPHY GUIDE

Because this ceremony is also a service of worship, we have developed the following guidelines for photographers, videographers, and guests to ensure that there are no distractions during the ceremony.

1. Photographs and video may be freely recorded in the worship space before and after the service.
2. During the service, only the official photographer and/or videographer may record images of the ceremony. Members of the congregation should refrain from taking photos or video.
3. Flash photographs and video may be taken during the wedding party's entrance and exit (processional and recessional). Photographers and videographers may stand in the cross aisle in the sanctuary or (counting from the back) at the seventh pew in the chapel. But in no case should the sight lines of the worshippers be broken.
4. Photographers and videographers are not allowed in the chancel area at the front of the worship space once the opening music begins, and may not return to the chancel until after the service ends.
5. During the worship service, photographers and videographers may not move about or change locations and are restricted to one of the balconies in the sanctuary or to the narthex in the chapel.
6. Flash photography is prohibited during the worship service, but official photographers may take photos using available light.
7. After the service, the participants may reassemble for photographs or video in the chancel.
8. Photographers and videographers are expected to follow the directions of the minister and the wedding coordinator at all times.

We ask that you share these guidelines with your photographer and/ or videographer, and we thank you for your cooperation. ✕

GUIDELINES FOR DECOR

FLOWERS

Flowers may be placed in the chancel using the church's brass vases or the containers provided by your florist. Floral arrangements may also be placed next to the pulpit and lectern. You may also place arrangements of flowers, greens and/or ribbons on the ends of the pews along the aisle; however, nothing can be nailed or taped to church pews (large rubber bands work well).

The church will be open one hour before the service so that the florist can place the arrangements. ☒

CANDLES

The use of candles in the sanctuary and chapel is limited. If desired, Third Church can provide two seven-branched candelabra and candles for the ceremony. If a unity candle is desired, Third Church will provide those candles and candleholders as well. ☒

OTHER SERVICE ITEMS

MARRIAGE LICENSE

The couple should provide the license to the officiating minister at or before the rehearsal. For renewal of vows, Third Church can provide documentation of the ceremony. ☒

BULLETIN/PROGRAM

Third Church will prepare bulletins in standard format appropriate for a service of worship. No other bulletins or programs may be used at the service. ☒

WORSHIP SPACE & BUILDING USE

Ceremonies may be held in either the Third Church sanctuary or chapel. The sanctuary, completed in 1893 and most recently renovated in 2010, is the central worship space for the community. The sanctuary seats 600. The central aisle is 60 feet with 14 pews per side.

The chapel, completed in the 1950's, also serves the community as a weekly worship space. The central aisle is 60 feet with 14 pews on each side, and it seats 110 people.

WEDDING COORDINATOR: Third Church will provide a wedding coordinator who, with the officiating minister, handles the logistics at the rehearsal and during the service. No other coordinators may participate. ✕

RECEPTIONS: Third Church members may use church facilities for receptions. Arrangements, including compensation for the sexton, must be made through the church office. The church does not provide catering services. Alcoholic beverages are prohibited on church property, and there is no smoking in the church buildings. ✕

TIME EXPECTATIONS FOR REHEARSAL AND SERVICE: The rehearsal is allotted two hours on the church schedule, and the service is allotted three hours beginning one hour before the service. Couples must emphasize promptness for both events to avoid potential schedule conflicts. ✕

OTHER CUSTOMS: None of the following items may be dropped or thrown or used inside or outside the building: rose petals, confetti, rice, bird seed, bubbles, or any similar item. ✕
